BECOMES COLLEGE HEAD.

Henry J. Patterson Elected President of the M. A. C. Special Correspondence of The Star.

COLLEGE PARK, April 18, 1913. Director Harry J. Patterson of the Maryland experiment station, was elected president of the Maryland Agricul- Ekwanok Golfer Leads Field at tural College at a meeting of the board of trustees of the college, held in Baltimore yesterday afternoon. Gov. Goldsborough presided at the meeting. President Patterson succeeds Capt. Richard W. Silvester, who resigned December last owing to ill health, after serving as the executive head of the institution for twenty years. Pending the appointment of a permanent president, Prof. Thomas H. Spence has been acting president of the college. Some months ago the trustees appointed a special committee to recommend a successor to former President Silvester, but the board was hopelessly divided and the selection was left to the entire board of trustees. It is understood that President Patterson's new duties will in no way interfere with his service as director of the station, but the offices will be combined and he will be at the head of both the college and station. His salary probably will be made $4,000 per Discusses Rifle Practice. Maj. Alex Summers gave a short talk on rifle practice to the members of Company L. 2d Infantry, N. G. D. C., at a smoker held last night in the armory. Capt. C. N. Walker spoke briefly on drill, and an exhibition boxing match was held. The members of the company decided to go on a "hike" up the river within a few weeks, camping for a night.

Alumni and Friends of George Washington Are Asked to Aid.

DESIRED TO LIQUIDATE INSTITUTION'S DEBT

More Property to Relieve Present Cramped Conditions Is Needed, According to Trustees.

George Washington University may pay its present debts and also acquire additional property has become nation-wide in scope. Accompanying the ballots, which are now being sent out to the members of the George Washington Alumni Association, for their votes for members of the board of trustees, is an appeal for funds. However, this present appeal, which marks the active launching of the campaign to raise $50,000, is not being confined to the alumni. It is being sent to merchants, public men and others all over the country.

When the friends of the university in many parts of the United States learn of the efforts of the alumni to raise money for the liquidation of the present debt of the university, and to relieve the university's present cramped condition by the purchase of more property, it is not doubted by those active in the movement that the responses will be prompt and Many Appeals Sent Out.

It will take several days to complete the sending of the present appeal. An idea of the number which are being sent out may be obtained from the fact that the recent report of the secretary of the alumni association showed that he had the addresses of 4,200 graduates. Some have been added since that time. To these, of course are added the number of appeals being sent to others not

The appeal takes the form of a four-page leaflet setting forth the university's debts, the amount which it is proposed to raise, some facts concerning the institution and reprints of editorials from the Washington daily newspapers following the first announcement of the plan by President Stockton at the recent annual banquet of the alumni.

Statement of Officials.

The appeal follows: "The president and the board of trusees of the George Washington University ask subscriptions to a sum of $50,-000 which they are raising to pay off the obligations on the university building and to purchase desirable real estate for the use of the university. The property, 2023 G street, was bought for $32,500 without any cash payment. The university has paid off $1,000, reducing the mortgages to $31,500. The trustees are desirous now of paying off the remaining indebtedness and of easing the present cramped conditions in space by buying additional property in the vicinity.

"They call attention to the following facts:

"The George Washington University re-ceives no aid from the national or the District government. "It is the only non-sectarian institution of higher learning in the District of "With the exception of Roman Catholic institutions it is the only institution in the District which maintains recognized standards of admission and graduation in its collegiate department.

Character of Students.

"Its students possess exceptional capaility and promise of future servicetbility: approximately 50 per cent are government employes, a chosen body of men and women collected from all parts of the country and tested by civil service

"Its students are earnest and deserving of all possible assistance; approximately 75 per cent are self-supporting and pay their tuition fees from their own earn-

"It is desired that subscriptions be paid at once or in five annual installments, the first installment payable on or before December 1, 1913. Subscriptions will be received at 2023 G street by the secretary of the university or the secretary of the alumni association, money to be paid to the treasurer of the fund. William J.
